Summary

Hello, I'm a self-motivated learner in front-end development, and I hope to pursue a career in this field. I have been learning for two years, and I work hard every day to improve my coding skills.

I am passionate about this field, and I believe I would be a good fit for any relevant job opportunity. I enjoy taking on new challenges in each project I undertake and find it rewarding to solve them, as it helps me to grow and develop my abilities. At the moment I'm learning PHP in addition.

Programming has been a lifelong dream of mine, and now I feel ready to turn it into a career.
